Teammates pile on Ken Griffey Jr. after he scored the winning run in the bottom of the 11th inning of Game 5 of the 1995 Division Series. The win completed a 3-games-to-2 series victory for Seattle over the New York Yankees and propelled the Mariners to their first ALCS.

OFFICERS

HOWARD LINCOLN

Chairman & Chief Executive Officer

A key player in the formation of the ownership group that saved the Mariners for Seattle in 1992, Howard Lincoln was named Chairman and Chief Executive Officer on September 27, 1999.

On February 14, 2000 Lincoln retired from his position as chairman of Nintendo of America, Inc. to devote his full efforts to the Mariners. Lincoln joined Nintendo as its senior vice president and general counsel in January 1983. In February 1994, he was elected to the board of Nintendo of America, Inc. and appointed chairman of the company.

Philanthropy plays an important role in Lincoln's life. In addition to his strong support of the Mariners Care Foundation, he serves as chairman of the board of the Chief Seattle Council of the Boy Scouts, chairman of the Children's Hospital Corporate Leadership Council, and was the Campaign Chair of United Way of King County's 2003/04 Annual Campaign. Lincoln is also a board member of The Washington Roundtable, the Corporate Council for the Arts, the Bellevue Boys & Girls Club, the Pacific Science Center, and the Children's Hospital Foundation.

Lincoln is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, and holds a law degree from Boalt Hall, the University of California School of Law. Following graduation from law school, Lincoln served as a Lieutenant in the U.S. Navy Judge Advocate General's Corps from 1966 to 1970. He practiced law in Seattle from 1970 to 1983. He and his wife, Grace, have one son, Brad, and grandson, Ethan.

CHUCK ARMSTRONG

President & Chief Operating Officer

Chuck Armstrong was named President and Chief Operating Officer of the Seattle Mariners on June 29, 1992. Armstrong is responsible for all operations of the Mariners' franchise and reports directly to CEO Howard Lincoln.

Armstrong was previously president of the Mariners from 1983 to 1989. He also served as Interim Athletic Director for the University of Washington in 1991.

Since rejoining the Mariners in 1992, Armstrong has successfully led the expansion of the front office as the Club became a business model for all of baseball. Under his leadership, the Mariners front office organization is recognized as one of baseball's best. With his guidance, the Club successfully made its move into Safeco Field, hosted the 2001 All-Star Game, four post-seasons and continues its never-ending focus on the fans.

Born and raised in Louisville, Armstrong earned a B.S. degree in Industrial Engineering in 1964 from Purdue University where he was recognized as Outstanding Senior Man. He graduated from Stanford University Law School in 1967 and then served over three years on active duty in the U.S. Navy.

Following his tour in the Navy, Armstrong joined a major West Coast law firm in 1970. He left to become president of a leading national furniture manufacturer and importer from 1977 to 1980. From 1980 to 1983, he served as president and chief executive officer of Arnel Management, an Orange County, CA, real estate investment company.

Armstrong and his wife, Susan, make their home in Medina. They have three children: daughters Dorrie (husband Ryan Schneider) and Katherine (husband Mark Hochstetler); and a son, Chuck. The Armstrongs are active in numerous civic and charitable activities.

JOHN ELLIS

Chairman Emeritus

A life-long resident of the Seattle area, John Ellis helped lead the efforts to keep Major League Baseball in the Pacific Northwest. Upon transfer of the Mariners franchise to the new ownership group, Ellis became its first chairman and CEO, serving from June 29, 1992 until Sept. 27, 1999 when he was named Chairman Emeritus. Ellis continues as a member of the Mariners Board of Directors. During the seven full seasons of his tenure, the Mariners only finished below .500 once, while winning two Division titles and narrowly missing a third. Community and fan support improved enormously — attendance grew from 1,651,398 in 1992 to 3,507,975 in 2001. The greatest accomplishment under his leadership was the construction of our world-class ballpark, Safeco Field.

In June, 1999 Ellis was unanimously elected to the MLB Executive Council. He's currently chair of its Compensation & Finance Committee. John started his career as a lawyer with Perkins Coie in 1953 and then joined Puget Sound Power & Light Company (now Puget Sound Energy) in 1970, where he served variously as President, CEO and Chairman until his retirement in 1993. He's been the recipient of numerous awards — most recently having been named one of the U. of W.'s outstanding graduates during the 20th century and inducted into the Junior Achievement Puget Sound Business Hall of Fame. He and his wife, Doris, have 4 children and 8 grandchildren — all Mariners fans.

BASEBALL OPERATIONS

BILL BAVASI

Executive Vice President & General Manager, Baseball Operations

William J. "Bill" Bavasi is entering his second season as the seventh General Manager in Seattle Mariners history after being hired on Nov. 7, 2003.

Bill and his staff spent the off-season revamping the Mariners roster, focusing on moves that improved the club for 2005 and beyond. They signed key free agents Adrian Beltré and Richie Sexson, improved depth in the infield and provided options for new manager Mike Hargrove on the pitching staff.

Bavasi spent the 2002-2003 seasons as the Los Angeles Dodgers Director of Player Development, directing all aspects of the Dodgers minor league operations. Previously, Bavasi was the Vice President/General Manager of the Anaheim Angels for six seasons (1994-99) after being promoted to that post on Jan. 12, 1994. The promotion was the culmination of a 14-year climb through the Angels player development department. While with the Angels, he helped lay the groundwork for the Angels 2002 World Championship. Bavasi began his pro baseball career with the San Diego Padres in 1974.

Bill is the son of E.J. "Buzzie" Bavasi, former GM of the Brooklyn and LA Dodgers, GM of the Angels and President of the Padres. The youngest of four brothers, Bill's brother, Bob, owned and operated the Everett AquaSox from 1984-1998. Another brother, Peter, was GM of the Padres, founding President of the Toronto Blue Jays and President of the Cleveland Indians and SportsTicker. The fourth Bavasi brother, Chris, is a prominent political figure, having served six terms as Mayor of Flagstaff, AZ. Chris is currently Executive Director for the office of Navajo and Hopi Indian Relocation.

Bavasi graduated from the University of San Diego, with a degree in Psychology, in 1980.

Bill and his wife, Tracy, reside in Seattle and have two children: Kyle and Katie.

NAMING THE MARINERS

The nickname "Mariners" was selected by the ownership of the Seattle franchise after a "Name the Team Contest" that resulted in over 15,000 entries and over 600 different names being submitted.

When the name "Mariners" was chosen, all the entries suggesting the name were reviewed for their reasons (in 25 words or less).

The winner was Roger Szmodis of Bellevue, WA. His entry read "I've selected Mariners because of the natural association between the sea and Seattle and her people, who have been challenged and rewarded by it."

Roberto Clemente Award

Since 1971, Major League Baseball has annually presented an award that recognizes a player who best exemplifies the game of baseball through sportsmanship, community involvement and positive contributions to his team. A CAPSULE HISTORY OF PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL IN SEATTLE

- 1890: The first professional baseball team in Seattle was organized. The Seattle Reds played in the Class-C Pacific Northwest League.
- 1892: The Reds (first-half champions) won the P.N.L. Pennant when the Portland club declined to enter the playoffs because of financial problems.
- 1896: Club was re-named "Braves" and moved into its first stadium (Athletic Park - 14th and Yesler).
- 1903: The Pacific Coast League was formed and Seattle was a charter member. Thus, Seattle had two professional baseball teams for one season (the Braves were now in the Pacific National League and folded after one year).
- 1906-17: Seattle ended its membership in the P.C.L. and joined the Class-B Northwestern League.
- 1919: Seattle re-joined the Pacific Coast League. The club was named "Indians" and played a 225-game schedule (the extended season format continued through the 1957 P.C.L. season).
- 1937: Emil Sick bought the Seattle franchise for $115,000 and immediately changed the nickname to "Rainiers" (Sick also owned and operated the Rainier Brewing Company).
- 1938: On June 15, the Rainiers moved into the newly-built Sicks' Stadium (seating capacity of 11,500). Local sports hero Fred Hutchinson began his rookie season and posted a 25-7 record.
- 1939-41: The Rainiers won three consecutive P.C.L. pennants.
- 1955: Hutchinson returned as manager of the Rainiers and led the club to another P.C.L. crown. In addition, the first official proposition for a domed stadium in Seattle was made (bond issues for the project failed in 1960 and 1964).
- 1960: Sick sold the club to the Boston Red Sox. Seattle became the Red Sox triple-A affiliate.
- 1965-68: The California Angels purchased the club and Bob Lemon managed Seattle to its last baseball championship.
- 1967: Public approval was given for funds needed to build a domed stadium (completion was scheduled to be prior to the 1972 season).
- 1969: The Seattle Pilots came into existence and began to play in the American League. Sicks' Stadium was expanded to seat 28,500, and 677,944 fans came out to watch the 64-98 expansion team. Third baseman Tommy Harper led the junior circuit with 73 stolen bases.
- 1970: On March 31, financial difficulties forced the Pilots to move to Milwaukee (club was re-named "Brewers"). Plans to build a domed stadium were temporarily interrupted.
- 1972-76: Seattle fielded a team in the class-A Northwest League.
- 1977: On April 6, Major League Baseball returned to Seattle when the Mariners played the California Angels before a Kingdome crowd of 57,762. The Mariners starting pitcher that night was Diego Segui, a member of the 1969 Pilots.
- 1995: On October 2, Seattle won its first American League West pennant.
- 1997: On September 23, Seattle won its second American League West pennant.
- 1999: On June 27, Seattle played their final game in the Kingdome defeating Texas 5-2.
- 1999: On July 15, Seattle played their first game in Safeco Field against the San Diego Padres, losing 3-2.
- 2000: On October 1, Seattle won the AL Wild Card.
- 2001: On September 19, Seattle won its third American League West pennant.
- 2001: On October 6, Seattle tied a ML record by recording its 116th win of the season.

Jay Buhner connects for a home run in Game 3 of the 1995 American League Championship Series on Oct. 13, 1995 in Cleveland. The blast atoned for an earlier error, and propelled the Mariners to the win, and a 2-games-to-1 lead in the best of seven ALCS.

Guidelines for Selection to the Mariners Hall of Fame

The Mariners Hall of Fame was established in 1997 to honor the great players and other individuals who make positive contributions to the history of the Mariners franchise.

- I. Eligible Candidates - To be eligible for consideration, uniformed personnel (player, manager or coach) should meet the following requirements:

- A. Active in a Mariners' uniform for at least five seasons;
- B. Ceased to be active in the Major Leagues at least two seasons preceding the selection, but may be otherwise connected with baseball.

To be eligible for consideration, non-uniformed personnel should meet the following requirements:

- A. Full-time employee of the Mariners for at least five seasons.
- B. Made significant contributions to Mariners Baseball and the franchise, either on or off the field.

- II. Method of Selection - The Board of Directors of the Baseball Club of Seattle, Inc., at the recommendation of the Chief Executive Officer and the President of the Mariners, the front office, uniformed personnel, the media and fans, shall in their sole discretion determine who will be selected on an annual basis.

- III. Criteria for Selection - The primary criterion for inclusion in the Mariners Hall of Fame shall be the on-field impact a player had while in a Mariners' uniform. The measure of a player's impact shall primarily be the statistical record created by the player.

The Mariners will consider other factors, such as:

- 1. Statistical impact on the field while in a non-Mariners uniform, whether before or after his tenure with the Mariners;
- 2. A player's positive impact on the Northwest community outside the game of baseball; and
- 3. A player's positive impact in enhancing the image of the Seattle Mariners or Major League Baseball.

- IV. Time of Selection - The selection process will be conducted during the first quarter of each calendar year. If an individual is selected, it will be announced within the first two months of that regular baseball season.

- V. Retirement of uniform number - The Mariners plan to retire uniform numbers only very selectively and subject to substantially higher expectations than those applied to the Mariners' Hall of Fame. To be eligible to have one's number retired, the former Mariners should have either a) been elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame and been in a Mariner's uniform for at least five years, or b) come close to such election and have spent substantially his entire career with the Mariners. Eligibility shall not commence until after the former player has been voted on once for the National Baseball Hall of Fame, which for all practical purposes means six years after retirement. In this regard, the Mariners will take into consideration the policy of other American League clubs in retiring uniform numbers.

- VI. Amendments - The Seattle Mariners reserve the right to alter and amend these guidelines at any time.

During the miracle 1995 run, Seattle fans and players adopted "Refuse to Lose" as their mantra. With sold-out crowds every night in September and into the postseason, it often seemed the club never did lose.

HOW TO FIGURE

Batting Average — Divide the total number of hits collected by a player by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A is 12-of-40 or .300.

Slugging Percentage — Divide the number of total bases by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A's 12 hits include six singles (6), one double (2), two triples (6) and three home runs (12) for a total of 26 total bases in 40 at bats and a .650 slugging percentage.

On-Base Percentage — Divide the total of hits, all bases on balls and hit by pitch by the total of at bats, all bases on balls, hit by pitch and sacrifice flies.

Earned Run Average — The total number of earned runs allowed by a pitcher is divided by the total number of innings pitched and then multiplied by nine for his per-game average. Example: Pitcher B has allowed 12 earned runs in 45 innings of work for a 2.40 ERA.

Fielding Average — The sum of putouts and assists is divided by the sum of putouts, assists and errors. Example: Player C has made 16 putouts and 24 assists and two errors. That's 40 putouts and assists divided by 42 chances for a fielding average of .952.

Magic Number — Determine the number of games yet to be played by the division leader, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

SAFECO FIELD

In 2004, the Seattle Mariners celebrated five years at Safeco Field. Despite a disappointing 63-99 record, over 2.9 million fans attended games at Safeco Field, third best in the American League. Since July 15, 1999, the Inaugural Game, over 18 million fans have attended baseball events at Safeco Field.

Since it opened, Safeco Field has become known as a great place to watch baseball. Sweeping views of Puget Sound and the downtown Seattle skyline combine with excellent sight lines from all seats give fans an experience that is unequalled in Major League Baseball.

Safeco Field's openness invites fans to enjoy games from many different vantage points on the Main Concourse and upper deck. The Bullpen Market in center field attracts thousands of fans with its festive atmosphere before and during games. Fans can also make a complete circle around the ballpark on the Main Concourse.

In addition to Major League Baseball games, including the 2001 All-Star Week activities, Safeco Field has hosted a variety of non-baseball events including the U.S. Men's National Soccer Team, Women's Gold Cup Soccer matches, 2001 Seattle Bowl college football game, World Wrestling Entertainment's WrestleMania XIX, as well as numerous high school graduation ceremonies, proms, trade shows, weddings, birthday, holiday and anniversary parties.

FANS COME FIRST

Fan comfort and convenience were top considerations in the design and construction of Safeco Field. Wide concourses, ample leg room, excellent sight lines, seats angled toward the field, plenty of bathrooms and concession stands all combine to provide fans with a first-class experience.

THE ROOF

The ballpark's one-of-a-kind retractable roof is designed to cover but not enclose the ballpark, thus preserving an open-air environment. The structure covers nearly 9 acres, weighs 22 million pounds, contains enough steel to build a skyscraper 55 stories tall. The three movable panels glide on 128 steel wheels powered by 96 ten horsepower electric motors. The push of a button extends or retracts the roof in an average of 10-20 minutes (depending on wind and other weather conditions). The roof is self-grounded (in the event of lightning strikes) and is designed to withstand 6-7 ft. of snow and sustained winds of up to 70 mph.

SCOREBOARD SYSTEM

art LED technology video screen and matrix board for display of graphics and animation. The out-of-town scoreboard in left field displays current inning scores of games in progress from around the Major Leagues. Two, first-of-their-kind play-by-play boards along the first and third base lines display running summaries of the game to help fans follow the action. Four auxiliary boards display player at-bat information, pitch speed and type, and additional game-in-progress information.

PLAYING FIELD

Safeco Field's playing surface is a custom designed state-of-the-art field. It features a specialty designed drainage system and a custom blend of four kinds of Kentucky bluegrass and two kinds of perennial ryegrass to provide the optimal playing surface for the athletes, the retractable roof and the Northwest climate. The drainage system includes layers of drainage pipe, pea gravel, sand, and grass. A spider web of plastic hose can circulate hot water under the grass to bring it out of dormancy in time for Opening Day, and also to compensate for shade and low levels of direct sunlight. The field can take a downpour of 2½ inches of rain in an hour and be ready for play in 45 minutes.

CONCESSIONS AND RESTAURANTS

Safeco Field's concession and catering services are provided by Centerplate, one of the nation's largest providers of food, catering, merchandise and facility management services for sports, convention and entertainment venues. A variety of fresh, high-quality foods from the Northwest and around the world are available to fans at concession stands and restaurants throughout the ballpark, including the Hit It Here Café, Bullpen Pub, Terrace Clubs and Diamond Club members-only lounges, Private Suites and Group Suites, which can accommodate groups of from 40 to 320 people, feature indoor and outdoor seating, and food and beverage catering.

SPECIAL FEATURES

The ballpark offers a number of exciting areas for fans. The Bullpen Market, located behind left field, features interactive games and activities for fans, as well as the Fan Walk personalized bricks, local food vendors, an open pit barbecue, and one of the best views of the game from behind the center field fence.

Lookout Landing, at the end of the left field line on the Upper Deck, provides incredible views both inside and outside the ballpark.

The Outside Corner Picnic Patio, directly above the Home Plate Gate entrance, is a gathering spot that provides fans with breathtaking views over Puget Sound, as well as tables and benches for picnicking.

Children's Hospital Playfield, located on the Main Concourse in center field, lets kids work off excess energy on fun, baseball-theme playground equipment.

The flagship Mariners Team Store is open year-round, seven days a week, offering the world's largest selection of Mariners apparel and merchandise for men, women, and children. The Kid's Clubhouse, located next to the Children's Playfield, caters to children and youth.

Works of art by 11 artists from the Northwest are integrated into the design of the ballpark and parking garage in an ambitious $1.3 million Public Art Program. The varied installations include a sculpture of 1,000 translucent bats suspended above the grand staircase at the Home Plate Gate and a huge bronze glove outside the Left Field Gate.

Kingdome Farewell

After 22-and-a-half years, the Seattle Mariners said farewell to the Kingdome on Sunday, June 27, 1999. A sold-out crowd of 56,530 fans watched the Mariners defeat the Texas Rangers 5-2. A post-game ceremony featured a ceremonial "final pitch" in the Kingdome, as Bob "Scrap Iron" Stinson caught a pitch tossed by Cory Segui, the grandson of Diego Segui. Segui and Stinson made up the starting battery of the Mariners inaugural game on April 6, 1977. Mariners Legends who participated in the post-game ceremony included Hall of Famer Gaylord Perry, Ruppert Jones, Alvin Davis, Julio Cruz and Harold Reynolds.

GROUND RULES

Photographer's Areas

The ball is "in play" if it hits any of the railings defining the photographer wells and bounces back onto the playing field. The vertical rails in the middle of the wells are considered in the wells and are out of play.

Ball Hitting Roof Trusses

A batted ball hitting a roof truss in fair territory shall be judged fair or foul in relation to where it lands or is touched by a fielder. If caught by a fielder, the batter is out and base runners advance at their own risk.

A batted ball hitting a roof truss in foul territory is a foul ball, regardless of where it lands or is touched by a fielder. If caught by a fielder, the batter is out and the base runners advance at their own risk.

Outfield Area

The hand-operated scoreboard in left field is part of the left field fence. A ball must clear the scoreboard (defined by yellow horizontal line) to be a home run. If a batted ball hits the cyclone fence under the scoreboard and above the padded wall, and the ball lodges behind the padded wall, it shall be ruled a ground-rule double whether it lodges behind the wall on the fly or on a bounce.

The ladder and the handle attached to and to the right of the scoreboard are beyond the padded wall. A fly ball striking either the ladder or handle shall be ruled a home run.

Dugouts

A ball must enter the dugout to be considered a dead ball.

Movement of Roof

If a game is started with the roof closed, it may be opened when, in the opinion of the home club, climactic conditions warrant such opening. However, roof may be opened only once during a game and shall commence only between innings after the umpire crew chief has been notified. Prior to opening of roof, the visiting club may challenge the opening if it feels a competitive imbalance will arise. The crew chief will make a final decision based on the merits of the challenge.

If a game is started with the roof open, it may be closed during the game. The decision to close the roof shall be made by the home club, and may be made solely for the comfort of its fans. Play will continue during roof closure if possible. However, the umpires have the right to stop play during this process if they determine it is necessary to do so.

These policies may be modified from time to time as more experience is gained with the roof and its impact on play

PEORIA SPORTS COMPLEX

The City of Peoria, the Seattle Mariners and the San Diego Padres proudly opened baseball's best spring training facility in 1994. Located 20 miles northwest of downtown Phoenix, the 145-acre Peoria Sports Complex provides separate practice facilities for the Padres and Mariners that include 6-1/2 practice fields, batting cages and a clubhouse.

Peoria Stadium, which was designed by HOK Sports Group of Kansas City, is the jewel of the $32-million complex and accommodates 11,000 fans (8,000 seats and 3,000 on lawn). Dimensions for the park are 340 ft. down each line, 385 ft. in the power alleys and 410 ft. to center.

Peoria is only the second spring training site in Mariners history, as the club trained in Tempe from 1977-92. Seattle played all road games in 1993, but used the Peoria facility for morning workouts as it was under construction.

DIRECTIONS: Take Bell Road exit off I-17 north; travel west to 83rd Avenue; travel south and enter facility at Stadium Way.

During his 28 seasons behind the microphone for the Mariners, he has missed only 70 games, including 21 in 1996 (17 due to medical reasons). Entering the 2005 season, he has witnessed 4,281 of the 4,351 games played by the Mariners. He is recognized as one of the best and most exciting broadcasters in the game. In 2004, Niehaus was named Washington State Broadcaster of the Year by the Washington State Association of Broadcasters. He was also inducted into the Puget Sound Sports Hall of Fame. The Washington Council of the Blind gave him the 2004 One World Award. Niehaus was the top vote-getter in the

SPANISH BROADCASTERS

AMAURY PI-GONZALEZ joined the Mariners Spanish speaking broadcast team in 2003 after eight seasons as the San Francisco Giants Spanish play-by-play voice, and 17 years broadcasting for the Oakland A's before that. Pi-Gonzalez was inducted into the Cuban Sports Hall Of Fame February 8, 2004 under the category of Sports Broadcasting. In addition to handling the play-by-play duties for all Golden State Warriors games for seven years, Pi-Gonzalez was the sports anchor at Telemundo in San Jose from 1990-1994. He is a multi-sport broadcaster, who has covered the World Series, MLB playoffs, the Super Bowl, boxing, basketball and soccer for Spanish Radio.

Amaury has been nominated for the Ford Frick Award for the broadcasters wing of the National Baseball Hall of Fame.

Born in Cuba, Pi-Gonzalez moved to Florida in 1961 to attend the University of Miami and broadcast on Miami's WWFB Radio. Pi-Gonzalez and his wife Gail are parents of two sons, Jonathan and Geoffrey.

JULIO CRUZ, will begin his third season of broadcasting on the Spanish Radio Network in 2005. He began his Major League baseball career with the Mariners in the inaugural 1977 season. He was selected by the Mariners in the 1976 Expansion Draft from the California Angels organization. In his seven seasons with the Mariners, the former second baseman was outstanding defensively and one of the best baserunners in the game. Nicknamed "Cruzer" or "Juice", he still holds the Mariner team record for stolen bases with 290. Other career highlights include his American League record tying string of 32 consecutive stolen bases spanning the 1980-81 seasons. Cruz is also in the top-ten of two other Mariner all-time leader boards, Games Played (10th all time with 742); Runs (10th, 402).

A resident of Bellevue, WA, Cruz coaches baseball at Eastside Catholic High School with former Mariner Bill Caudill. Cruz and his wife Rebecca have three children, Austin, Alex and Jourdan.
